Foreword . . .

As a tribute to pleasant moments of contact and accordances with the Board of Directors, faculty, and fellow students, we present the 1947 Imago.

In times of strain and in moments of distress, when our classmates are scattered far and wide, may they gaze upon the pages of this yearbook, finding in it a means of consolation and inspiration, and may they recapture some of the delightful memories of by-gone days spent at this institution which was founded for the betterment of mankind—Sinking Spring High School.

Dedication . . .

We, the Class of 1947, consider it an honor to dedicate this Imago to her, whose untiring efforts have guided and inspired us in the determination to overcome all obstacles, no matter how unsurmountable they may seem, who is our dearest friend, advisor, and whose sincerity of purpose we shall always cherish—Maybelle Yarnell Lambert.

ALMA MATER

'Neath the shades of old South Mountain
Rests our fair High School;
There is where her sons and daughters,
Learn the Golden Rule.
Faith and virtue we acknowledge,
Learning as the tool;
When we combat, ours the friendship—
Sinking Spring High School.

THE IMMORTALITY OF INFLUENCE

KATHRYN STOUDT

Her china dolls still make their home
  In a house by the wayside here;
Her books still stand on a shelf alone—
  A token to memories dear.
With a prayer we lift our eyes above
  The winds that kiss the sod;
And see her gathering the flowers of love
  In the Gardens of her God.

You've left us a kingdom of love, dear boy,
  And memories for a million years;
Your Skippy and "Daisy Mae" brought joy;
  Your slipping away brought tears.
Your charming rougish smile still shows
  In the mirror of our love;
The clarion call of your trumpet flows
  Through our ears from Heaven above.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

It has often been remarked that history has a peculiar way of repeating itself, and so to a certain extent the history of this class is much like the history of classes which have been given before, and of others which will follow.

So, remembering that history to many people is a rather dull subject except to those who have taken part in it personally, the history of the class of 1947 will be as brief as possible, and will touch upon those subjects which are of significance not only to the class but to others.

According to the findings of students of educational statistics, it is obvious that the coming together of any Sophomore Class of a High School represented selected and quality material. This is true even in those few cases where the individuals are coming against their own will and to please someone else. For various reasons the members of the incoming class of September, 1944, represented, we believe, a particularly promising group. We believe we are safe in asserting that all of this entering class would be worthy of special mention of some kind, if time permitted us to make a note of their special qualities of sturdy character, genius and personality.

Early in our Senior High School life, a class organization was formed and the following officers selected by way of class leadership:

Sophomore Year:—
President—Donald Sweimler.
Vice-President—Paul LeVan.
Secretary—Eugene Hull.

These have been succeeded from time to time at our annual elections as follows:—and it is not without good reason, as you may well guess, that a number have succeeded themselves several times—Paul LeVan, Roy Weinhold, and Phoebe Zechman have served in their respective offices in our Junior and Senior years.

We believe that the experience gained and the leadership developed will be of decided advantage in the years to come. How often it happens that men and women of affairs who have taken their places in the world are recalled to have been officers in their class groups at school or in a class activity.

Socially, our activities have been all that could be expected of us and, perhaps, all that it was wise for us to undertake without infringing upon the more serious business of classroom, study hall, laboratory and workshop.

Among the outstanding social affairs to which we will all look back with happy memories are doggie roasts, hikes, dances, Senior class plays and the Prom. And last, but not least, our Commencement and Class Night activities. Besides this, not a few of our class have had time and energy for other things, and have shared in the work of the Chorus, Band, Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A.

The Class of 1947 has clearly held its place in the sun. However, we have visioned clouds upon various occasions, as well, and at this time, we would voice our sorrow that it has been our fate that the Grim Reaper has found occasion to come into our midst and touched two of our number on the shoulder and beckoned them onward.

In Memory of Kathryn Stoudt and Gerald Dietrich

STILL WITH US

"Not lost, not dead, not gone, not even sleeping;
Though we have lain them in their graves with weeping:—
No sharp despair our sorrowing hearts can fill,
For they are with us still.
Still with us, in a thousand tender fancies,
In memories dear of old-time words and glances;
Still with us, but forever freed of any pain,
No care of suffering to weary them again,
Still with us at wakening of the day,
Still with us, in the twilight shadows gray,
Still with us, in the sunshine of God's face;
Upholding them, the same almighty arm
Is shielding us, tho' the evening shadows fall
Still with us, in the land where we shall rest
When a little further on have pressed—
There, just as tender and true as ever,
They shall be with us still forever."

As a class, we feel that we have been especially favored in executive and faculty leadership. Who of us will not always feel a deep warmth of feeling and tenderness for Mr. Steckel, our Supervising Principal, and Mrs. Lambert, our class advisor, and for all other teachers who helped us in our grave moments.

Our class motto is
"Not for self, but for all."
Our class colors are Dubonnet and Silver.

A history does not deal with the future. Its function is to tell of the past and the present, but we trust we shall be pardoned if we pause for a moment and, with hand-shaded eyes, look into the years beyond.

What we see may more truly belong to the class prophet, but we cannot refrain from expression of the belief that no class ever has or ever will go forth from this institution with a finer and clearer record than has been made by the graduating class of 1947. And, further, we have firm confidence that in the "Who's Who" of the years ahead many of our number will appear and reappear, and that all, without a single exception, will find the lasting satisfactions which a life well lived is bound to hold.

The curtain is going down on the history of the Class of 1947, but in reality the Big Parade is just commencing. The bugle sounds—Forward March!

CLASS PROPHECY

FORMAL DANCE
Sponsored by the CLASS OF 1947
Berkshire Country Club
Time 9:00 Admission—Free

As I read this invitation it renewed my memory of the plan of the Senior Class to have a reunion in 1957. It seemed like ages until that Saturday night came. I looked forward with anticipation to see the class back together again.

As we entered the ballroom, our hostesses, Frances Hiester and Marian Emerich, greeted us. Frances has a very successful beauty shop in Reading, while Marian is designing dresses in New York.

Among the first guests to arrive was our class president, Paul LeVan, who is now a famous chemist. He escorted Betty Mae Bailey, who is now a supervising nurse at Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia.

Next to arrive was our class secretary, Phoebe Zechman, and her escort. Phoebe is now teaching Home Economics at her old Alma Mater in Sinking Spring.

Next on the list were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hull. Eugene is now the head postmaster in New York City.

We soon heard the noise of the class musicians. James Feeg now has his own orchestra and is playing for our dance. Mildred Manbeck arrived at the same time, being the solo trumpet player in Jimmy's orchestra. Mickey's wish came true last year when she conducted the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra in Carnegie Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Unger were next to arrive. Mrs. Unger was the former Luella Swavely. The Ungers have just returned from a trip around the world, which was Mrs. Unger's ambition.

Donald Roeder and a beautiful blonde were the next to arrive. Donald is now a noted lawyer in New York.

Sara Hoffert, who is now a Red Cross Nurse, arrived with Lt. Marvin Schonour. Lt. Schonour is now stationed at a nearby airfield and was fortunate enough to be able to escort Sara to the dance.

Next to arrive was Lt. (j. g.) Roy Weinhold and a beautiful brunette. It seems that Roy had no time to marry because he is an instructor in Electrical Engineering in the Navy. True to the Navy saying, Buddy has a girl in every port.

Shirley Stief, who is now an Airline Hostess, did not have a flight scheduled for that night, and arrived with the handsome pilot of the ship to which she was assigned.

As the dance was well under way we heard the laughter of the three inseparables, Lucille Longenecker, Anna Mae Grimes, and Doris Gring. They arrived with their escorts from New York. Lucille is now an airline hostess with T.W.A. Doris is a Medical Secretary to a very prominent doctor in New York. Anna Mae is a Laboratory Technician at New York General Hospital. The three girls now share an apartment in New York City.

The next couple we saw enter the door was a tall, dark, and handsome man, and a tall, beautiful, flaming redhead. We recognized the couple to be Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lutz. Ralph it seems is a very capable draftsman at Metropolitan Edison Company.

We thought someone was missing, and after taking account of everyone there, we realized it was Helen Schroeder's vitality which had always helped to make a success of our school functions. Just then she arrived with her husband—which she had made her career.

The next sounds we heard were those of an engine. They were those of Donald Sweimler, who has his own Engineering Company on the outskirts of Philadelphia. With him was his short, dark-haired fiancee.

Next to arrive was Virginia Barnett. True to the saying, Ginny, who is a very capable secretary, has also proven herself to be a capable selector of handsome men. She arrived with her boss.

By the time we had greeted everyone and had stopped to talk for a few minutes, we realized the evening was almost over.

The next person we saw was Shirley Eckenroad, now a dietician at Billing's Memorial Hospital in Chicago. Shirley, of course, arrived with her husband, who for the past three years of their marriage, has been trying to get Shirley to functions on time.

We always thought Shirley was last to arrive, but it seems John Ritter's punctuality has been getting worse. John is now an Air Corps Chaplain. A few of the members of the class are wondering if John ever got to his first sermon on time.

After everyone had arrived and a few words were spoken about by-gone years, the dance was over. Time certainly does fly when you are talking to friends whom you haven't seen for a long time.

We bid everyone farewell after having decided to have another reunion in the form of a Formal Dance in ten years.

The End.

The Freshman year opened with a doggie roast at Egelman's Park on September 18, 1946. It was a grand success and everyone enjoyed themselves. We had other social affairs all through the year.

The class is proud of its participation in the school's athletics. We have eight members on the Junior Varsity basketball team; one member on the varsity team and four members on the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders squad.

The Freshman Class had their biggest event of the year, the graduation into Senior High School. We are proud to spend our last three years at Sinking Spring.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

OFFICERS

President ..... Donald Roeder
Vice-President ..... Eugene Hull
Secretary ..... Betty Bailey
Treasurer ..... Virginia Barnett
Advisors ..... Mr. A. D. Steckel
Mr. N. C. Hopp, Coach

The Athletic Council is composed of four seniors and two advisors. This council, with the aid of its committees, takes charge of all the athletic events occurring during the school year.

We held various functions during the year to raise money for the Athletic Association Fund. This money, which we raised during the school year, was spent for basketball equipment and for presenting the basketball teams with awards.

We started a Special Athletic Fund for equipment for next year's Athletic Association. We decided to put 25% of the profits received from each basketball game into this fund.

One of the major contributions of the Council this year was the writing of a constitution. We hope the councils of the future will carry on the standards established by this constitution.

Kneeling—D. Roeder, H. Lengel, W. Wealand, P. LeVan, D. Troutman.
Standing—M. Hill, B. Poticher, J. Ritter, R. Weinhold, Coach N. C. Hopp, E. Hull, J. Haughney, D. Lambert, C. Miller.

VARSITY

The 1946-1947 edition of the Varsity Basketball Team is composed of five seniors, five juniors, and one freshman.

This season will mark the last year of play for the Co-captains, Roy Weinhold and Eugene Hull. The last year, also, for Paul LeVan, Donald Roeder, and John Ritter.

David Lambert, Donald Troutman, Harold Lengel, Warren Wealand, Byron Poticher, and James Haughney—all will be back next year to carry the Red and Blue Quintet to fame and a Western Division Championship.

The team this year was under the very capable direction of Mr. Norman C. Hopp, a Wilson High alumnus, and a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, where he starred in football, basketball, and track.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

With the opening of the Basketball season this year many new faces were seen on the Cheering Squad.

We started our activities by holding a "Fun Night" which was a big success. The profits went toward the purchasing of the uniforms for the entire cheering squad.

After winning our first game with Perry, by one point, much enthusiasm was aroused among cheerleaders and the result of the enthusiasm was more active cheering and a better supported team.

Standing—M. Hill, L. Koehler, W. Savage, J. Haughney, R. Miller, Coach, Mr. N. C. Hopp, J. Kramer, J. Reeser, D. Leiby, G. Snyder, C. Miller.

JUNIOR VARSITY

The Junior Varsity basketball team of 1946-1947, under the coaching of Mr. Norman C. Hopp, proved very capable of carrying on the tradition of Sinking Spring High School, which is: Always an excellent basketball team.

Future Varsity basketball material was very plentiful on this year's team. The brightest prospects are Captain James Resser and Ray Miller. These two, together with the remainder of the team, showed fight and spirit all through the season.

Competition for a position in the starting lineup will be very keen, because of the great spirit and fight of all the candidates.

The baseball team, also, will be under the guidance of Mr. Norman C. Hopp, a former athlete at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.
